

ROSE STARTS ON HIS CAMPAIGN

Leaves Milwaukee on a Special Train This Morning.

HE HAS A TRAINER

Brother "Bob" Will Look After His Physical Condition.

WAS BRYAN'S TRAINER

(Special A. D. Dispatch). Milwaukee, Sept. 9.—Mayor David S. Rose began his gubernatorial campaign today in Fond du Lac. From now on until the election in November he will make from six to eight speeches daily. He will travel in a private car and will have no rest except on Sundays. The first stop he made this morning was at Jackson at 7:30 and his second was at West Bend at 11:30. This afternoon he will speak at Kewaskum at 1:30 and at Campbellsport at 3 o'clock. He will arrive in Fond du Lac early this evening. He spoke from the train at his two morning stops at an interesting crowd that had assembled to meet him.

The special train he will use on this trip will consist of a Pullman sleeper, a Pullman combination smoking and dining car and a baggage car. This train has been leased for the whole campaign. Accompanying the mayor is his brother Robert, as private secretary, several extra speakers and representatives of the press. The car is decorated with banners announcing "For Governor David S. Rose." Mr. Robert Rose acted as private secretary for Williams Jennings Bryan during his two campaigns. The initial run was over the Chicago & North-Western road leaving here at 8:00 o'clock this morning.

His Plans. Mayor Rose has taken upon himself a Herculean task. He plans to make from six to eight speeches a day and none of them less than thirty minutes in length. He will be handled throughout his trips by his brother "Bob" Rose and will follow as closely his orders as do the athletes on the college fields their trainers. He will sleep just when "Bob" says and will eat what "Bob" says. Mr. Robert Rose has had experience and he is using it on his big brother.

Hard Training. Mayor Rose will be given a course of what may be termed sprouts. Under the guidance of his brother "Bob" he will be as carefully cared for as any prize fighter or any trotting horse. He will be rubbed down and put to bed and will be told just what to do. He will become a piece of machinery for the rest of his campaign doing just what his trainer tells him. This is necessary if he intends to finish the strenuous schedule he has laid out for himself.

Strenuous Bob. Brother "Bob" is a veteran campaigner himself and is big and strong. His experience with Bryan and the amount of actual training he forced the Nebraskan to take will all stand him in good stead with his brother.

JOSEPH GSELL HAS HIS EYE BADLY CUT

Trolley Roller Strikes Conductor on the Interurban Road, in the Face.

Joseph Gsell, a conductor on the Rockford, Beloit and Janesville Interurban electric road, is spending a few days at his home in this city, taking an enforced vacation. This lay off was necessitated by an accident with which he met while on duty on Sunday evening and which resulted in a deep cut over his left eye. It was found necessary to take six stitches in the wound, which extended through the eye lid, but Mr. Gsell is congratulating himself that he escaped without serious injury to the eye itself.

Hit By Trolley Roller. The accident occurred about eight o'clock on Saturday evening while Mr. Gsell was on his regular run between Beloit and Rockford. When about eight miles out of Beloit, Mr. Gsell heard the trolley slipping and going to the rear, vaulted, leaned out to see what was the matter. As he was looking upward the trolley roller slipped out of its socket and fell, striking him squarely on the left eye. The cut inflicted extended both above and below the eye and through the eyelid. A physician sewed up the gash and yesterday Mr. Gsell came home to remain until the wound heals sufficiently to permit his return to labor.

Prohibitionists Fire First Gun: The prohibitionists of Rock county will open their campaign next week, Wednesday, Sept. 17, by holding their county convention at the court house in the afternoon and having a meeting at Assembly hall in the evening, at which their nominee for governor, Mr. Edgar W. Drake, of Milwaukee, and Mr. Quincy Lee Morrow of Indiana, will speak. Long and interesting meetings are being held everywhere these gentlemen appear and it is hoped that Janesville will not be an exception.

CUBAN BANDITS
BECOME BOLDER

Overrun the Island and Cause Rural Guards Much Trouble.

KIDNAPED MANY

When Refused Money, They Threaten to Shoot, and Use Torch.

POLICE POWERLESS

(Special By Scripps-McLae.) Havana, Sept. 9.—Word has been received in this city that bands of Cuban bandits are overrunning the adjoining territories and are causing much trouble for the rural guards whose authority they are defying. They are very daring in their maneuvers and loot merchants and country homes in daylight.

Hold For Ransom

Their favorite occupation seems to be that of capturing and hiding the sons and daughters of planters and storekeepers and even the men themselves and holding them for ransom. The rural guard are powerless.

Rob Travellers. They have even become so bold that they openly rob travellers in the vicinity of Havana and force money from farmers at the point of guns and by threatening the torch to their homes.

BELOIT FARMER'S GRUESOME FIND

Digs Up a Skeleton While Engaged in Working in His Cellar.

(Special A. D. Dispatch.) Beloit, Sept. 9.—This city is stirred up over the mysterious finding of a skeleton partially dressed with boots on and in a decayed wooden box surrounded by lime on a farm near here.

The gruesome find was made on Saturday last by a farmer named Andrew Roth as he was digging a new cellar under his house.

Very Mysterious. The find is very mysterious and the remains as found demonstrated that they had been in the earth for a long time. No one is missing from the city or has been during the past few years but the appearance of lime and boots on the body gave the idea that foul play had been committed.

An old inhabitant says that thirty years ago a man and a woman and a child very mysteriously disappeared and it is thought that the present find will in some way clear this up.

Found By Accident. Mr. Roth was digging a cellar for his new house to replace one that had been burned down last fall. He was making the walls deeper when he found the skeleton. It was drawn out by piecemeal and nothing but a few strips of clothing and the boots were found. There was much lime in the vicinity and it is thought that the body was pinned there in the expectation that it would be completely eaten up and never found.

M'KINLEY'S FRIEND
KILLED BY A TRAIN

Tragic Death of Major Daniel O'Driscoll, Former Law Partner of the Martyred President.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 9.—(Special).—Major Daniel O'Driscoll, the former law partner of President McKinley and a veteran of one of the Ohio regiments during the civil war, was instantly killed shortly after noon yesterday while crossing the Baltimore and Ohio railroad tracks about five miles from this city. He was on his way to his office here.

The road along which he was driving crossed the railroad near a curve which prevented a view of the track, and it is probable that Major O'Driscoll was entirely unaware of his danger when the fast express from the west rushed upon him. His body was badly mangled.

His Life. Major O'Driscoll was one of the best known lawyers in Washington. He came to this city from Chicago, where he played an important part in politics and practiced law. He was born in Ireland, but came to this country when a youth and settled at Cleveland.

With the outbreak of the civil war he enlisted in an Ohio regiment and went to the front. During the fight at Chancellorsville he lost his left leg. He was a member of a number of organizations, prominent among which was the Knights of Pythias, being a high official of that order. He is survived by a widow, who is living at her summer home at North Tacoma Park.

He informed Randall that if he wished his trial sooner he could make a petition to the court and the matter would be taken up immediately.

Petition For Trial. Randall therefore petitioned for an immediate trial and the case was set for two o'clock this afternoon when an information charging him with the offense was filed by District Attorney Jackson. Randall entered a plea of guilty to the charge.

Judge Field after asking him a few questions about his past life, sentenced him to one year in the state prison at Waupun. Sheriff Maltress will take him to Waupun tomorrow noon.

GOVERNMENT HAS
BIG SUM OF GOLD

Amount in the Treasury the Largest Ever Held by Any Country Except Russia.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 9.—(Special).—With one possible exception, the sum of gold now in the United States treasury exceeds that of any previous time in the history of any country of the world. On Saturday the vaults of the treasury held $573,936,193, an increase since July 1, last year of over $79,000,000. This stock of gold is being added to at the rate of $200,000 to $300,000 a day.

Officials Satisfied. The gold now coming in is being replaced by gold certificates, United States and silver certificates, the former being supplied where the denominations wanted are $20 or over, the U. S. notes for tens and silver certificates for fives, twos and ones. Treasury officials are well satisfied with the situation, regarding it as an evidence of the financial prosperity and stability of the republic.

The single reported exception in the high mark for gold in any treasury is that of Russia eight years ago, when the treasury of that country contained $398,000,000. This was when Russia was preparing to resume gold payments.

DANE POLITICS
BADLY MIXED

Spooner and Anti-Spooner Men Fight Over Candidates.

BOTH STUBBORN

General Bryant Objects to the Words "Unconditional Vote."

BOTH MEN MAY LOSE

(Special A. D. Dispatch). Madison, Wis., Sept. 9.—Dane county republicans are in what might be termed a perplexing quandary. The two elements are fighting fiercely over the nomination of the representatives in the assembly districts. The Spooner and anti-Spooner lines are drawn most closely and the fight is a most bitter one. Neither side will give in although the Spooner men say that all they ask from the candidate is that he pledge himself unconditionally for John C. Spooner for United States senator over all opposition. They do not care about the state platform, what they want is Spooner.

Objects To Unconditional. The executive machine men, however, object to the word unconditional. General Bryant says that the word is distasteful to him and should be left out. He even goes further and says that the hot heads on both sides are liable to make so wide a breach that a democrat will be seated from Dane county instead of a republican. He objects to the word unconditional on principle. He claims that no fight is being made against Spooner and all that the governor wants is a legislature that will follow out his pledges and his plans. He does not want to dictate who shall be Senator other than that the person who is elected shall conform to the plank of the platform and endorse the state issues.

Compromise Candidates. Both sides have represented compromise candidates and both sides have failed to come to an agreement. One prominent state office holder said last night: "It is time to stop all this monkey work. We fellows are not gaining by conceding anything to the Spooner men and the sooner they find it out the better. We are going to have the legislature pledged, to LaFollette in spite of all they can do, and they ought to learn it sooner or later."

Politicians Pull Out. Alderman E. F. Gibbs, a LaFollette Spooner man, has drawn out of the fight in the last twenty-four hours. He was acceptable to the Spooner men but the Anti's wanted the word unconditional struck out and that made trouble. A. T. Torgerson, present clerk of the courts, is the administration candidate and in a statement issued he claims that he will support Spooner and the republican party as set forth in the last platform.

Miss Sarah Bliddle, a member of the famous Philadelphia society wrote a book defending society against the accusation of display and notoriety; she said that the qualifications of the real "400" were based on good manners.

TRADE IS ON THE INCREASE

GRAINS ALL SEEM TO BE ON THE RISE.

TALK ON THE POSSIBILITIES

Winter Wheat Good, But Is Being Held Back for Speculation.

Chicago.—Developments during this week and the course of the market most of the time was decidedly in favor of holders. There was no consolation from any source for short sellers, but the market does not, as yet, show any material advance, though I believe it soon will be on new ground. Judging from my correspondence I believe that we are on the eve of a considerable increase in the outside speculative trade, and naturally with it will come higher markets. Every possible bear argument that can be presented is already discounted in the prices prevailing for the futures. Never before have we had such a condition in the way of prices as prevails now. The future months of everything on the list are selling at a discount, and the farther off the future, the lower the price, relatively speaking. Bears instead of bulls are paying the carrying charges. If the bears can make money out of such a state of affairs it will be the first time on record. Strong interests have large quantities bought of the current and future months, all cereals. Armour owns all the cash contract wheat here and is long a great deal more of September wheat, and during the past few days has been buying December wheat very heavily. It is thought, he, too, is long an immense amount of September corn. The stock of corn here is being reduced very rapidly, and outside of a section in Illinois, there is very little corn anywhere. The American Cereal Company are long a big line of September, December and May oats, and are anxiously awaiting delivery of the oats on their September contracts. There was some Standard oats delivered to them a few days ago, which they immediately ordered shipped west to one of their mills. Imagine oats being shipped westward from Chicago at this time of the year. It is an evidence that they are unable to get enough good oats in Iowa and elsewhere to keep their mills running, and those that are short of September oats haven't a bright prospect ahead. This applies also to the shorts in September wheat and September corn.

Winter Wheat.

The movement of winter wheat is showing a steady falling off and there is not the big rush of spring wheat we have been told for weeks past we would have ere this, in fact the movement is extremely light. The grading of winter wheat continues wretchedly poor. Up to oats (hospitals) private elevators have been unable to make any amount of contract wheat out of the poor wheat that has been received. The question now is, what will the spring wheat harvest be in quantity and quality. There has been no material delay in the northwest on account of adverse weather; they have had fairly good harvesting weather so far, but for some reason the wheat does not come forward. Either they have not raised as large a crop as told, or there is no necessity for them to sell it. I believe the latter is more likely. My advice also state that threshing returns in many sections are not showing as large a yield per acre as was expected, and on account of the almost entire exhaustion of supplies of old wheat, empty bins are being filled, not only on the farm, but at terminal points, milling centers, etc., which will absorb a considerable part of the first movement, and prevent any increase of consequence in the visible supply, which is now only 20,000,000 bushels, compared with 27,700,000 bushels one year ago. Since July 1st, the visible has only increased 1,000,000 bushels, and I do not think that at any time on the crop get much over half as large as it did one, two and three years ago. In 1901, on Dec. 14th, it reached a total of 58,356,000 bushels; in 1900, on Nov. 17th, a total of 62,361,000 bushels, and in 1899, on Dec. 23d, it reached a total of 58,875,000 bushels, but from the 1898 crop, which was the biggest crop ever raised up to that time—55,000,000 bushels—the visible supply never got to much over 30,000,000 bushels, but so we have a precedent in that respect, excepting that this year's crop is smaller, and stocks of old wheat the world over are also much smaller, all of which is in favor of much higher rather than any low prices ultimately, if not in the near future. Millers at Minneapolis and other points in the northwest are anxiously waiting for this much heralded movement of spring wheat. Our attention is repeatedly called to the fact that there is no export demand but somehow we are supplying Europe each week with more than half of what they are taking. Our exports are averaging almost 5,000,000 bushels weekly. This week the enormous total of 6,275,000 bushels, or almost a record breaker, and since July 1st foot up a total of about 450,000,000 bushels. At that ratio will export as much from this crop as we did a year ago, in spite of the prediction of the bears that we would not export within 100,000,000 bushels as much. We are told that the world's crop of wheat is larger than for some years past; probably true, but so are the requirements, and increasing each year. Broomhall tells us Europe will require for the United States and Canada about 4,480,000 bushels weekly for fully their requirements of us that time their requirements of us will depend on the outcome of the Argentine crop. We know that we have raised fully 100,000,000 bushels less than we did last year, and if we export anywhere nearly as much, with no reserves of old wheat, there is no good reason why wheat should not sell at a higher price this year than it did last. We have heard much about the Manitoba crop, that is a bumper one and would force our wheat to a very low level. There is no question but that Manitoba will harvest a large crop compared with other years, probably 70,000,000 bushels, but our own crop is more than that much short, and the Manitoba wheat is of excellent quality. I received a sample of new wheat from there this week which shows a quality of grain such as we have not produced anywhere in this country, and everyone will be wanting a little of Manitoba wheat to grind and mix with other wheat. The excellent quality of their this year's wheat will mean much to the price of it, and instead of dragging wheat down it may force prices higher, that is for good wheat. Much of the poorer wheat arriving here will not be fit for milling purposes, and it is impossible that we will have a reputation in wheat of the experience we are having right now in oats—a very high price for good wheat and a big discount for the poor stuff. In buying your futures here your contract calls for wheat of good quality either No. 1 Northern Spring or No. 2 Red Winter, and I do not think you will make a mistake if you buy some December wheat while it is still under 70 cents.

Corn Market.

The corn market had injected into it a little frost scare this week which apparently was not severe enough to do any damage, at least the trade here did not pay any attention to it. It is well known that in very few years is there any damage to corn from frost, but I remember distinctly in 1890 we had a similar condition, a big crop of corn was almost made, everything was looking fine until September 11th and 12th when a frost cut down the crop materially and made such poor corn, forcing prices in short order much higher, the market in two days advancing 8 cents per bushel, or from 45 cents to 53 cents for May corn. This is still fresh in the memory of many of the trade. Corn is not a high price at 40 cents when we have but one crop. Taking everything into consideration, I think it is worth 50 cents. It may not, however, advance much in the very near future unless we get a severe frost, which it is to be hoped we will not. Eliminating possible damage from frost, I believe corn is worth present prices on a probable supply and demand basis, and would advise buying May corn everytime it declines to under 40 cents.

Oats.

The strongest market on the floor was in the oat pit, September oats selling up to over 35 cents, and I believe that the other months will live up to that or higher. "It is a condition, not a theory, that confronts" everything in oats. We did raise a big crop but they were not saved. There is no question there will be but very few standard oats from this crop, not enough to cause an accumulation of supplies and make short selling a safe proposition. Of course there are some oats coming in that are grading No. 2 White, which by handling can be improved to the standard grade, but the cash demand for that quality is so urgent that they are being taken off the market every day at higher prices relatively than September oats are selling for, so there is no safety in selling short the distant months.

Government Report.

We will have another government report next week, and if the market follows the course it has pursued the last six months it will advance following publication of the report, another transformation from what we formerly experienced. This has been a year of peculiarities. The markets have not followed the usual program. The best judges have been unable to forecast the course of values, and if we continue with a condition of affairs as exists today, bears instead of bulls paying the carrying charges, stocks rot accumulating, estimates and actual output of crops (merchandise grains) being reduced instead of being increased, and everything else just the opposite from what was expected, we will have very hard markets to make money out of unless one simply shuts his eyes, buys the stuff and holds it until it shows a profit, which I believe you will experience if you buy anything on the list in the way of grain; that is the deferred futures.

GEO. H. PHILLIPS.

"SILKUS—WHERE IS MY WIFE?" "DIDY—WHERE EVERY TRUE WOMAN SHOULD BE, BY HER HUSBAND'S SIDE."

"The Game Keeper" Tonight
"The Game Keeper" that will be produced at the Myers Grand this evening is Com. T. Murphy's latest effort. We all remember his former successes, "The Ivy Leaf," "The Fairies Well," "Killarney," etc., etc. Who cannot remember his beautiful touches of pathos, also his unbounded wit? "The Game Keeper" has all the crudities eliminated from it that any of Mr. Murphy's former plays possess. Messrs. Rowland and Clifford in staging this beautiful Irish ideal have selected the famous Thos. J. Smith to interpret the part of "Derry Doolan" the Game Keeper, and have surrounded him with a most talented cast, including such well known and talented artists as Del C. Seldon, Sadie Marion, Gertrude Seldon, Clifford B. Smith and Baby Patti.

Otis Skinner will appear at the Myers Grand next Monday evening, Sept. 15, in his new production of "Lazarre." Those who saw Mr. Skinner last season in "Francesca Da Rimini" need not be informed of the fact that he gave to the theater of this country one of the most elaborate and artistic

GREAT BUILDING BOOM IN BELOIT

WORKMEN LIVE IN TENTS AND BOX CARS.

ERECTING MANY NEW HOUSES

Fifty New Residences Are Being Built in One Addition—Contractors Kept Busy.

From one aspect Beloit's phenomenal boom is really a pitiful affair. So many have come to the city in so short a time, that it has been impossible to find accommodations for all. On every hand houses may be seen in the process of completion, and still it is impossible to push the work along fast enough to supply the newcomers with homes. It has even reached the point where barns, tents, and even box cars have been brought into service to supply lodging places for men who are abundantly able to pay for the accommodations of a first class hotel.

Camp in Suburbs.

In South Beloit all through the summer there have been tents in which workmen have been living. Their homes are rapidly nearing completion, but in the interim they must have some roof to cover their heads. For several weeks skilled mechanics who were receiving from $2.75 to $3.50 a day were forced to sleep in box cars. Every one in the city who has an available room to rent has pressed it into service.

Real Estate Lively.

Every day new additions and subdivisions are being platted by enterprising real estate dealers. Last Saturday a transfer was made involving one hundred lots. In one addition it is said that there will be fifty new houses before the snow flies, all of which were erected this summer. Among them all there is not a cottage but are all good two-story frame houses costing from $1500 to $3,000. Last Friday deeds were filed in the county register of deed's office in this city recording certain sales, and on Saturday the excavations for two $1,500 residences on the property had been completed. In both of these latter cases the additions are located near the city limits.

Building Thriving.

In the midst of such activities it is all the contractors can do to keep pace with the orders. Four quarries near the city are working full blast to supply common building stone for the foundations, and several houses have been delayed through inability to get a sufficient quantity. All building supplies are at a premium, and yet delays have been much more infrequent than would be expected under the circumstances.

BELOIT WOODMEN HOLD A PICNIC

They Spent Last Sunday in Milwaukee—James Theobald Taken Ill.

The Woodmen of the World of Beloit made an excursion to Milwaukee Sunday. The day was ideal for the trip, and large numbers took advantage of the opportunity to visit the leading city of the state. James Theobald, of Beloit, one of the excursionists, was suddenly taken very ill while in a restaurant in the city of the breweries. He was taken to the Emergency hospital, and an irregularity of the heart was pronounced to be the trouble. It was expected that he would be sufficiently recovered to return to his home today.

"Salesmanship is that quality in a salesman which enables him within the shortest space of time to place in possession of his customer the greatest amount of satisfactory merchandise, and in the coffers of his employers the greatest amount of profits; while at the same time preserving the lasting respect and good will of the customer."—Mahl's Magazine for September.

and the intention of the Secretary of War, who has applied to the Bureau of Forestry for advice in managing them, is to continue to use them for this purpose, but to cut from them also a regular supply of fuel. A working plan for the management of this land will be made by Frederick E. Ilmstead, of the Bureau of Forestry, and an inspector will be appointed who will see to it that the cuttings are made according to Mr. Olmstead's plan without spoiling the appearance of the woods.

All the military wood reservations near the forts in the west are to be managed according to the plans prepared by the Bureau of Forestry. The Secretary of War has asked for advice in making cuttings on these lands, and the plans will be made as soon as possible. The reservations comprise about 117,000 acres.

LABOR UNIONS BEST IN STATE

Beloit Is Complimented on Its Complete Organization of Labor.

On Labor day Beloit union men were told by speakers from out of town that the laboring men of their city were more completely organized than in any city of the size in the state. The city has over two thousand and union men in comparison with about seven hundred in Janesville. Meanwhile efforts are being redoubled in that city to complete the organization of all the laboring men. Two more unions are now under discussion. One of them will probably be perfected in organization this week and the other will follow soon. A branch of the Women's Union Label League will doubtless be established within a few days, and an organization of the electrical workers of the city will probably be completed soon. Vigorous steps are now being taken toward that end.

SHEEP ARE ILL WITH ANTHRAX

Dr. Roberts Has Been Called to La Crosse to Investigate the Spread of Disease.

State Veterinarian E. D. Roberts went to La Crosse yesterday on account of a large number of deaths among the sheep in the town of Campbell. It is feared that they are suffering from anthrax. Several weeks ago nearly one hundred cattle died from this disease about La Crosse and it is thought that the same affliction has broken out among the sheep. Dr. Roberts will make an investigation of the disease and take measures to stamp it out. About a dozen sheep have died within the last two days.

REPUBLICAN GAIN SHOWN IN MAINE

HILL IS STILL THE GOVERNOR

Is Re-Elected by Handsome Vote, for Which President Roosevelt is Given Great Credit—Four Congressmen Credited to the Tariff Party.

Portland, Me., Sept. 9.—By a plurality estimated at 20,000, which is considerably larger than the usual "off year" one, John F. Hill, Republican, was re-elected governor of this state. The whole Republican state ticket was elected, including four congressmen, the entire state delegation. The result is considered a great victory by the Republican leaders, as the Democrats made a specially vigorous effort to cut down the plurality, even bringing W. J. Bryan into the state for a series of campaign speeches.

Credit is Roosevelt's. While in presidential years, when the full vote was called out, candidates for governor have received larger pluralities, only once in an "off" year did the total of the Republican plurality reach the size recorded today. That was in 1894, when local issues cut down the Democratic vote in the cities, the state ticket being the gainer.

President Roosevelt's recent visit to the state and his plain declarations of the administration's policies on the great issues of the day are believed to have had a considerable effect in bringing about the result.

Approximate Vote. Early in the campaign it appeared more than probable that material gains would be made by the Democrats, and even up to a week ago the state committee members admitted they did not expect more than the usual pluralities. The gain, therefore, is all the more pleasing to the Republican leaders.

The Republican state ticket carried every county but one, Knox, the home of Congressman Littlefield. In four counties, however, the Democrats elected their candidates for sheriff, the question being on the enforcement of the prohibitory law.

The total vote on governor is approximately 115,000, divided as follows: John F. Hill, Republican, 70,000; Samuel W. Gould, Democrat, 40,000; James Perrigo, Prohibition, 3,500; Charles L. Fox, Socialist, 1,500.

One Democrat in Senate. The congressmen elected are: First district—Amos L. Allen. Second district—Charles E. Littlefield.

Third district—Edwin C. Burleigh. Fourth district—Llewellyn Powers. The legislature will, as usual, be strongly Republican. The senate will have one Democrat in thirty-one members. The house will stand thirty Democrats and 131 Republicans.

The hardest fight was in Cumberland county, which contains Portland, the largest city in the state, and which two years ago elected for the first time in the state's history, a Prohibition sheriff, the Rev. Samuel F. Pearson, on the distinct platform that the prohibitory law should be enforced. Mr. Pearson was true to his duty, and died in office, it is claimed through the hard work that he put in in hunting down liquor sellers.

Minister Is Sheriff. There were three candidates this year—Melvin W. Trefethen, Rep.; William M. Pennell, Dem.; and Alfred S. Bisbee, Pro. Pennell's majority was 200.

The Rev. C. S. Cummings, a Methodist, was endorsed by the Republicans and Prohibitionists in Androscoggin county for sheriff and was elected by 500 majority. Mr. Cummings is on a strict enforcement platform and was nominated by the Republicans in the longest convention ever held in Maine, over 200 ballots being taken.

RAILROAD MEN LISTEN TO PRAISE

ALWAYS GUIDED BY REASON

Of All the Organizations, Whether of Capital or Labor, None Have Been More Fair in Their Dealings Than the Transportation Workmen.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Sept. 9.—The great good of labor organizations, the advancement of all by the growth of the spirit of brotherhood, the need of the extension of the spirit, the strengthening of the character of man by the initiative taught in unions, and the quality of bravery and energy taught the railway man by the nature of his calling, were subjects discussed by President Roosevelt in an address to the members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and citizens of Chattanooga.

Honored by Union

President Roosevelt, who had come here to attend the opening of the annual convention of the brotherhood, was present when the executive session was called to order, was elected unanimously an honorary member of the organization, and after a greeting by the acting grand master of the union responded briefly, expressing his thanks for the honor of membership conferred upon him.

When the courtesies had been exchanged between the president and the members of the brotherhood the convention adjourned and the doors of the auditorium were thrown open to the public. President Roosevelt then delivered his principal speech of the day.

Adds 10,000 Persons

A drive through the city and a short address to 10,000 persons from a stand at the courthouse closed President Roosevelt's visit to this city.

In his first address of the day, that before the brotherhood convention, President Roosevelt said:

"Mr. Chairman, and you, my friends and fellow-Americans: I shall not try to speak to you formally now, as I understand that I am to make an address in open session. I shall therefore merely thank you most warmly for the greeting you have extended to me.

Praises Railroad Men

"During the time I was governor I had to deal with many organizations—organizations of wage workers, of capitalists, of professional men, organizations like your own brotherhood, like the Bar association, for instance, like the Bankers' association as another example.

"After two years I found that on the whole I had come nearer being able to do exactly what the railroad men had requested than was the case with any other organization with which I was brought in contact. And I think that was due especially to the fact that the men of our organization are of a type which naturally results in their applying principles of common sense to whatever they do.

Were Always Reasonable

"I was asked nothing unreasonable and I should have been loath to admit that I would have refused to do anything that was reasonable.

"I am glad to come here for reasons which I shall set forth when I make my public address. Here I wish to say but one thing more. I have had to make as president a number of appointments. I have made none which has given me personally greater satisfaction, and I think none which has given the public greater satisfaction, than when I succeeded in persuading Mr. Sargent to take office under me, because Mr. Sargent has the qualities which are indispensable in a public officer. In the first place, he has a sound heart and in the next place he has not got a soft head. I can count upon his being absolutely fair and square, upon his doing justice all through; and I can count upon him doing it in the right way.

Sargent's Task Is Difficult

"All of us know people who can be just, but who are just in such ways as almost to make us wish they were unjust. Mr. Sargent is free from that besetting sin. No man has a more important task than he has, for he stands in the gateway of one of the roads out of which the American citizenship of the future is to be made when he stands to supervise the immigration to this country. The laws affecting his department can, I think, be improved, but under him I am sure that the administration of them cannot be improved."

The president thanked the convention for the compliment paid him, and Grand Master Sargent then gave him a pass which admits him to all meetings of the brotherhood.

Good for Insect Bites

Common yellow soap, moistened slightly and spread over a fresh mosquito bite, will, it is said, quickly relieve the stinging pain. The same application is good for bites of other insects.

EQUALIZATION WORK IS NEAR

State Board Will Begin Its Sessions Within a Week.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 9.—The annual meeting of the state board of equalization will begin in this city Sept. 16. It is not probable that the board will be able to do business for two or three weeks later because of the absence of many of the county assessors. By law all counties should be in by Wednesday of this week, but the law has never been lived up to and the board has been delayed each year from two to four and even five weeks.

The board this year is unchanged with one exception. Joseph F. Drury of Waterloo, Monroe county, representing the twenty-first district, has died since the session a year ago, and James T. Tarr of Edwardsville, Madison county, has been appointed by Governor Yates to fill the vacancy.

DIES TRYING TO RESCUE WOMAN

Sad Accident Occurs at Spring Lake, Near Grand Haven, Mich.

Grand Haven, Mich., Sept. 9.—Harry Ford, son of J. C. Ford, president of the Spring Lake Iron Company, and Miss Edna Reams of Kalamazoo, Mich., were drowned in Spring Lake, a few miles from here, by the capsizing of a sailboat. Five others who were in the boat were rescued by the steamer Fanny M. Rose. Two of the men saved were named Tigue, from Chicago. Ford could have saved himself, but was drowned in his attempt to rescue Miss Reams, keeping her afloat ten minutes by swimming with her.

ABSOLUTE FAITH.

You can depend upon the word of this Janesville Citizen.

He has had the experience. He has thoroughly tested the article.

He has found it as represented.

He has absolute faith in its merit.

Mr. L. Lawrence, of 409 S Franklin St., engineer at the Janesville Electric Light Co., says:

"Seven years ago I injured my back by falling through a bridge near Afton, into the Rock River. I was on a traction engine, its weight broke through, and the whole thing went into the stream. Since that time my back has ached by spells, sometimes very severely. If I caught cold it settled in my kidneys and if I brought a strain on my back lifting, the result was a bad backache and sharp twinges of pain in my loins. I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at the People's drug store and after I used them I was free from backache. I am in better health than at any time since falling through the bridge.

Sold for 50 cents per box by all dealers. Foster-McIlhenn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Also on sale at King's Pharmacy.

Remember the name, "Doan's," and take no other.

Nasal Catarrh quickly yields to treatment by Ely's Cream Balm, which is agreeably aromatic. It is received through the nostrils, cleanses and heals the whole surface over which it diffuses itself. Druggists sell the 50c. size; Trial size by mail, 10 cents. Test it and you are sure to continue the treatment.

Announcement. To accommodate those who are partial to the use of atomizers in applying liquids into the nasal passages for catarrhal troubles, the proprietors prepare Cream Balm in liquid form, which will be known as Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Price including the spraying tube is 75 cents. Druggists or by mail. The liquid form embodies the medicinal properties of the solid preparation.

SPOONER FIRST.
The Wisconsin State Journal prints the following editorial. It is to the point and states what even the official paper will do if the administration does not stop its fight upon Senator Spooner:

"It must not be forgotten that this city of Madison will seat no one in the legislature concerning whose loyalty to John C. Spooner there is the least doubt. The candidate must stand four-square on that subject. Some of the governor's cronies may think it funny to play fast and loose with a great senator in his home territory, but the rest of us have no desire to advertise ourselves through the forty-five states as ingrates in sentiment or mud turtles in intelligence. We will support a democrat, if need be before the columns of John C. Spooner's home paper are defiled by pleading with the citizens to elect a legislator who could or would add to the insult and ingratitude already heaped upon one of the most conspicuous and useful men in public life of his generation."

TIMELY INFORMATION
Information of timely value to the commerce of the country is brought together in the July Summary of Internal Commerce, issued by the Treasury Bureau of Statistics.

Of interior trade movements the report states that for seven months ending with July 1, 1902, the receipts of the live stock at the five markets of Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha, St. Louis, and St. Joseph reached a total of 34,222,094 head, in contrast with 35,223,972 head for the corresponding period of 1901. There is a difference of 1,101,878 head to be supplied before the receipts of the current year shall have equalled those of last year.

Analysis of stocks of cut meats at the five markets of Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha, St. Joseph, and Milwaukee show that on July 31 of the current year there were on hand 209,094,057 pounds. On the corresponding date of 1901 the combined stock consisted of 279,801,345 pounds.

Freight receipts at 121 points on the Great Lakes for the month of July 1901, were 7,004,685 tons, and for the corresponding period of 1902 there were received 7,552,448 tons at 144 different ports. Shipments from 204 different points for July 1901, were 7,031,357 tons, and for 1902, 7,436,548 tons from 217 ports. Total shipments for the first seven months of 1901 were 19,653,334 tons, and 26,876,001 tons for the same period of 1902, showing a gain of 6,222,670 tons or 36 per cent.; 16,568,599 tons passed the Sault Ste. Marie canals, against 11,548,192 tons in 1901, and 12,775,246 tons in 1900.

STOCK MARKET.

September has opened with increased activity in the stock market. Operators of all classes are now returning from their summer vacations, invigorated by rest and change, and stimulated by the expectations which good crops and good business prospects naturally induce. No doubt the reassembling of the financial leaders at home will revive progress in the various important negotiations which have been in contemplation for months, and some of which must of necessity soon mature if favorable conditions are a factor in their consummation. Control of many of the vast corporations, as at present centered in few hands, is anything but convenient, and some means must be found of restoring elasticity and mobility to the big sums of capital now effectually locked up. Recent developments in Wall street prove that it is extremely hazardous to the plans of the big leaders to lose control of properties recently acquired; hence the invention of holding corporations, and other devices intended to make the cost of retaining control less expensive. It costs much less to secure control of a stock selling between 25 and 100 than at 100 and 200, and this is the explanation or excuse for some of the schemes which have recently met with such free public criticism. They are but a part of the plans of the large holders to distribute their holdings without loss of power; and, in view of the opposition which various of these schemes have thus far met, it will be interesting to observe what new devices will be forthcoming to take their place. It may be put down for certain that the large capitalists will take full advantage of favorable conditions during the next six months to lighten their burdens. Favored as they have been by another good harvest, they may with skillful leadership partially succeed. It is easily within their power if not prevented by outside interference or internal dissensions, to weld together more closely the railroads under their control; and by reducing the possibilities of competition and through new economies they may easily strengthen the earning powers of their respective roads. Adding to these considerations the steady and marvelous growth of the United States, and it is easy to understand the great tenacity with which good railroad stocks are held, even at present fabulously high prices.

Bartholin the martrickie, the murderer of his sweetheart, is dead. He has died as Tracy the bandit, by his own hand, and in a grain field, too. Bartholin the degenerate teaches the young man of the world a lesson. A lesson that should be instilled in their minds. The son of a nobleman who deserted his wife and ran away with her German serving maid. The son of a woman who kept a notorious resort on the old levee of Chicago. William Bartholin was the child of crime and by crime he ended the life of his mother. By crime he killed his sweetheart and finally ended his own unworthy life. He died as he had lived, and the only pity is that he could not have been made to suffer more fully the punishment of his crimes on the scaffold.

The Honorable Tom Johnson has started out in a red automobile to campaign through the state of Ohio. He has a whole circus procession following him including peanut stands and pink lemonade dealers. It is a one ring performance at once in which Johnson is clown, strong man and bare-back rider.

President Roosevelt is now liable to have to go out on a strike if his brother firemen decide upon a general lockout of all roads. Certainly the president will have to lead a strenuous life if this comes about.

It is said that La Follette will not pursue the same methods as David Rose will in his campaigning. In other words he will not travel in a special train nor will he talk from the rear end of the cars.

How about the Sunday performances given at the stone crusher under the auspices of the city council? There was a much larger audience at the blast Sunday afternoon than there was at the Sunday theater a week ago.

David will have a hard time when he receives President Roosevelt in Milwaukee. David will say something even if he didn't get a medal from Emperor Willie for taking care of his brother Henry.

Lipton wants that American cup to drink his tea out of. Well, come and get it Tommy. You can have it if you win it.

PRESS COMMENT.

New London Republican: From all parts of the state, just on the eve of the opening of the hunting season, come reports that never in recent years has game been so abundant.

Fond du Lac Reporter: The indications point to one of the most prosperous years in the history of the democratic party.

Madison Journal: It will cost Milwaukeeans and other residents of the state $12 each to eat with President Roosevelt when he visits Milwaukee.

Oshkosh Times: It is getting so now that when men from the neighborhood, but by the bribery of a whole Chicago, they register from Oshkosh. It is no small privilege to hail from Oshkosh.

Appleton Post: The Fond du Lac Reporter says that "the indications point to one of the most prosperous years in the history of the democratic party." This opinion may be accounted for in part by the fact that the editor of The Reporter expects to be nominated by his party as secretary of state.

Oshkosh Commonwealth: With the next annual convention of the American Florists and Ornamental Horticulturists Association slated for Milwaukee next year, that city can ill afford to have her Rose waste his fragrance on a fruitless gubernatorial campaign.

Milwaukee Journal: The Journal is trying to awaken the democrats of the state to the fact that with a candidate for governor whose character comes up to the requirements of the office, they have a chance to carry the state, elect a United States senator and be the biggest toad in the democratic puddle in this country this year.

Plymouth Reporter: Some of our democratic leaders profess to believe that only state issues ought to be considered in platform and stump this fall. With these men we cannot agree. National questions and party platforms define party lines, and by these tests only can we determine our right to a party designation. Besides, eleven congressmen are to be elected at the coming election, whose duty it will be to solve the many important questions which now agitate the public mind.

Madison Journal: Rose as a candidate will not command the respect that Burr Jones would and it is doubtful whether he can draw the full democratic vote. Rose is a cyclone, however, as a campaigner, and it will not be wise for the managers of the republican campaign to underestimate him. His nomination promises a campaign of oratory—perhaps a series of joint debates.

Neenah Times: "If the American people want the trusts done away with it will be done. It would be shameful for the American people to admit that they could not do anything they wanted to." That is what Attorney General Knox said in New York yesterday. And then he set sail for Paris to look after some canal matters and left the American people to look after the trusts. Knox, you are strictly on to your job.

Portage Register: The Janesville Gazette points to the necessity of electing to the legislature none but men who will vote for Spooner. It should not be enough to agree to support him "if he is a candidate" or with any other "ifs;" legislative nominees should be elected only among those candidates who pledge themselves to vote for Spooner's return to the United States senate unconditionally. Otherwise the wishes of the people may be defeated.

GREAT AUDIENCES FOR OTIS SKINNER

Manager Myers Receives a Letter from Joseph Buckley; Telling of Big Advance Sales.

Manager P. L. Myers this morning received the following letter from Joseph Buckley, manager of the Otis Skinner company, written yesterday from Green Bay where the company opened last evening. Green Bay being the place where the scenes of Mr. Skinner's new play, "Lazarre" were laid.

It is interesting to note that the letter is written on a letter head which contains the words "Good Sunday Night Town," under the name "Green Bay Theater." The letter follows:

"My Dear Myers: I enclose you an ad. for the Skinner engagement. I will not reach your city until Wednesday night. We will play to over $1,200 tonight and I enclose you today's wire from Appleton, so you can see you must get a move on so as to be in it. Yours, Joseph Buckley."

The telegram from Appleton, referred to in the above letter, stated that the entire house had been sold out. Mr. Skinner appears in Appleton tonight.

MAKES A NEW SOCKET FOR MISPLACED HIP

Remarkable Surgical Operation Performed on Michigan Doctor by Chicago Specialist.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—An extraordinary and it is believed successful surgical operation was performed by Dr. J. B. Murphy. The subject of the operation is Dr. W. L. Griffin of Shelby, Mich., who was severely injured in the hip a year ago. The injury was then attended to by a local physician, but despite his efforts the leg has been gradually growing shorter. Recently in Grand Rapids the X-rays were used to discover the cause of this, and it was then found that the hip was completely out of the socket and was slowly working its way upward. Dr. Murphy took the case in hand and for one hour and three-quarters cut away new bone and extraneous growth and fitted the hip into a completely new socket.

FOOTBALL GOSSIP OF COMING SEASON

Promise is Good for a Strong Team for the University of Wisconsin.

William Juneau, of Milwaukee, captain of the University of Wisconsin football team, today left his home for Madison. Tomorrow he and Rordand will call on the cardinal contingent for the first practice of the year. Coach Phil King, is expected to arrive on Saturday to remain through the football season when he will return to the east.

Few Men Lost
The prospects are right for the Badgers on their gridiron this fall. The entire 1901 team will return save Cochems, Larson and Curtis, and any amount of new material is expected to be on hand. Of course it is hardly to be expected that men of the caliber of the departing players can be trained in a single season, but several of the candidates come with good records behind them.

Good Material
Bertke, the big guard, who played such a phenomenal game for the Milwaukee Medics last year, is not among the least of the aspirants for varsity honors this fall. Several men who made good records on high school teams are also booked to give good accounts of themselves and some of last year's scrubs have acquired more than a surface knowledge of the game.

A Stiff Schedule
Michigan is generally regarded as the most formidable rival in the race for championship honors. Minnesota and Chicago are opponents not to be lightly regarded. The schedule is so arranged that the season will be hard from start to finish. The Thanksgiving game is with Chicago.

At His Old Place
Despite the talk of playing Juneau at half it is hardly probable that he will be taken away from his position at end. Not only is his success behind the line wholly a matter of conjecture, but it is hardly probable that another player so nearly invulnerable as he could be secured to take his old place.

Much About Dress Goods

FEARS THAT SHE KILLED HERSELF

IT IS THOUGHT EDITH JOHNSON
COMMITTED SUICIDE.

ARE DRAGGING THE RIVER

Came to This City from Chicago, and Was Very Melancholy at Times.

Brooding over the death of a brother a year ago, and of her father's sudden demise a month ago, Miss Edith Johnson is thought to have jumped into the Rock river at the Monterey bridge last night at about half past seven. Acting on that theory the police are today searching the river bottom for her corpse.

Miss Johnson, who is twenty-three years old, was staying with her aunt, Mrs. McCulloch on State street near the Institute for the Blind, her home being in Chicago. She came here about five weeks ago in hopes that the change would benefit her. Her mother, Mrs. Julia Johnson, was also at Mrs. McCulloch's.

Brother Died
About a year ago a brother of Miss Johnson died in Chicago. She took it very much to heart and brooded over it continually. She had an idea she was going to die of consumption and at times was very melancholy. Her father died about the first of August and was brought here for burial. Shortly afterwards Miss Johnson came here from Wheaton, Ill., where she had been at a sanitarium for treatment.

Acted Strangely
Last evening Miss Johnson did not eat much supper and started up stairs as was her usual custom to lie down on the bed. About seven o'clock her mother thought that she might catch cold lying on the bed without any covering over her, so went up stairs to cover her up. When she reached her daughter's room, she found the room unoccupied and made a search of the house for her. Not being able to find her about the house, she and her sister secured a lantern and started out to see if they could find her.

Fearful Suicide
They were afraid from some things that she had said and the frame of mind she was in, that she would commit suicide, so started toward Monterey bridge to see if they could overtake her before she reached the bridge. Evidently she was not far ahead of her mother and Mrs. McCulloch, when they started after her, for her footprints in the soft dirt where she jumped into the water show she was running at the time. The two women did not find her and after going on across Monterey bridge they returned home.

Search Again
This morning the search was again taken up. The girl's belt was found on the sidewalk leading towards Center avenue and further on a handkerchief was found. An umbrella that belonged to the McCulloch home was found later floating in the water at the foot of the bank. Everything tends to show that the girl went down State street to Center avenue and down the hill to just beyond the Janesville & Southeastern tracks. Here she turned off towards the east and ran and jumped down the steep bank into the river, a short distance above the bridge.

Steep Bank
The bank at the point where she is thought to have jumped into the river is very steep and about twenty feet high and is used to dump refuse from the streets. Close to the water is a quantity of old brush and tree limbs but for quite a few feet down from the top it is fresh dirt. The rain last night had smoothed the dirt down and this morning her tracks could be plainly seen in the soft dirt between the roadway and the river bank. The last track is about five feet from the top of the bank and shows she must have struck there first as she pitched over the bank.

Mother Broken Hearted
Her mother is broken hearted over the occurrence and word has been sent to her three brothers who reside in Chicago.

WILL NOT MOVE FACTORY HERE

MICHIGAN PAPER BOX FACTORY IS NOT COMING.

MR. THOROUGHGOOD EXPLAINS

Conditions Were Such That the Move
Would Not Have Been a Good One.

Janesville is not to have a paper box factory as was proposed. Mr. Vinnege of St. Joseph, Mich., who had planned to settle here and had made arrangements with Mr. J. Thoroughgood for the factory site has written that gentleman that he has found that it would not pay him to come to Janesville and establish such a factory as he planned. He thanked Mr. Thoroughgood for his kindness and explained his reasons for not coming.

Mr. Thoroughgood's Statement
When asked as to the proposition Mr. Thoroughgood said:

"After the publicity given the public regarding the coming of Mr. Vinnege of St. Joseph, Mich., to start a paper box factory in Janesville, it is only proper the writer should inform your readers how the matter now stands. So far as Thoroughgood & Co. is concerned the citizens of Janesville are well aware of the interest the subscriber takes in any and all industries seeking locations amongst us; and so far as Mr. Vinnege and ourselves were concerned we had agreed to heat, lay floors, put in water closets, etc., and to fix the factory to the entire satisfaction of Mr. Vinnege, who was pleased with the interest we had taken in getting him here, and so far as we were concerned the matter was closed.

"September 5th we received a letter from Mr. Vinnege thanking us for the interest we had taken in him and was sorry that he could not see his way clear to come to Janesville. Besides his thinking that his fixed charges would be too high, we understand there are several other reasons for his not doing so. Of the local work for paper boxes, the Parker Pen company have a contract with a Milwaukee firm which does not expire until one year from May, 1903. Their work is worth some $1,500 per year. Another thing is the starry board trust Mr. Vinnege stating that his board would cost him $200 per ton more than those in the combine. These and other objectionable matters are the cause for the Paper Box factory not coming to Janesville. I am informed that the paper box factories everywhere never were more busy; so much so that they are working nights as well as days. Mr. Vinnege would have put in a plant here with a capacity for some 3,000 boxes per day. He would have equipped it with modern, up-to-date machinery, and in my judgment would have been successful.

"There are many things in Janesville favorable for a paper box factory and no doubt under the careful management of Mr. Vinnege, who understands the business thoroughly, together with his gentlemanly deportment there could be no such word as fail.

"This factory would have made another industry and one that Janesville ought to have. However, we presume that this is the end. Mr. Vinnege impressed us very favorably while here and we surely wish him success wherever he may locate."

BOODLERS BOUND TO DEATH BY OATH GOT MONEY FOR FRANCHISES

Former Delegate J. K. Murrell, Who Flew to Mexico, Returns and Tells Prosecuting Attorney Folk of the Misdoings of City Fathers.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 9.—It has been discovered that the members of the house of delegates combine, against whom warrants were issued, were bound together by an oath providing the death penalty for anyone who would violate it. The circuit attorney is in possession of a copy of the oath.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 9.—As a result of the confession of J. K. Murrell, a member of the house of delegates of this city, bench warrants for the arrest of eighteen members and former members of the same legislative body were issued. Some of the warrants were served and the remainder will be as soon as the police can get trace of the defendants. The warrants charge bribery and perjury in connection with the passage of street railway and other franchises in St. Louis.

Sold Franchises. Murrell's confession alleges that the men for whom warrants were issued, together with others who have been found guilty or are now fugitives in Mexico, formed a combine in the city council to control and sell legislation. It says that Murrell was the custodian of the $75,000 deposited for the combine as the price of pushing through the Suburban Street railway franchise. It shows also that the combine obtained $17,500 for another deal.

Operates for Years. In addition—and this feature of it has caused the most amazing phase of the sensation of the day—the confession declares that the combine had been operating for years, the traffickers in the public rights for their own gain not thinking that they were doing wrong.

Immunity for Murrell. Delegation J. K. Murrell fled to Mexico last spring after being indicted for bribery by the December grand jury in connection with the hoodling operations of the municipal assembly in relation of the granting of street railway franchises. He unexpectedly returned to the city and surrendered. He is now in the custody of Circuit Attorney Folk and will, it is stated, be granted immunity from punishment for turning state's evidence.

"I suffered for six years with ovarian trouble," writes Mrs. E. Waite, of Chicago, Ill. (Lake View Postoffice.) "Sometimes I could hardly walk, and when I had to cough it felt as though a knife was cutting me. My hands and feet were cold all the time. I had such a tired feeling and such a poor appetite, and when I went to bed I slept only about two hours at a time. I got a bottle of 'Favorite Prescription' and by the time I had used two bottles I felt so much better that I continued until I had taken eight bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and one of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and now I am so well that my friends remark how well I am looking. I go to bed now and sleep till morning. My appetite is splendid and that tired feeling has left me. I hope others will do as I did—give Dr. Pierce's medicines a fair trial."
